Annual Notification of Rights Under FERPA*

Alliant International University complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (referred to as "FERPA"). This law was enacted to protect the privacy of students' personally identifiable information and education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or otherwise misleading information. The following are students' rights under FERPA:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 15 working days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The University Official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records to ensure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights.

Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate. They should write to the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the University determines not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception, which permits disclosure without consent, is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

4. The right to file with the Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20202-5920, a written complaint concerning specific alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

File Sharing Policy

All Alliant International University students, faculty, and staff are required to follow the University's Policy for Responsible Use of University Computers and Information Systems which includes complying with all copyright laws. Compliance with this policy requires that students, faculty, and staff not share copyrighted material over the University network, including Web pages, Peer-to-Peer file sharing software, and e-mail. This applies to both University owned computers and personally owned computers used to access the University network. All members of the University community have the responsibility to ensure that the proper rights for any material made available on or sharing via the University community should make the assumption that if there is any doubt to whether an item being shared is legal, it may well not be.

Any sharing of copyrighted materials on the University network is a violation of the Policy for Responsible Use of University Computers and Information Systems, and may lead to University disciplinary proceedings and, in some cases, legal action. Although peer-to-peer (P2P) file-sharing can sometimes be used for legitimate reasons, any use of P2P software on the campus network may result in Internet access being disabled. Individuals who need to use P2P software for legitimate purposes can discuss their needs with the IT Help Desk. In addition to consuming bandwidth and technological resources, P2P file-sharing also exposes the University network to viruses, spyware, and other attacks. It also is frequently used for illegally distributing copyrighted works. Some file-sharing programs that could trigger action are Ares, Azureus, BitTorrent, BitLord, KaZaA, LimeWire, Shareaza, and uTorrent.

The complete Policy for Responsible Use of University Computers and Information Systems and the Peer-to-Peer (P2P) File Sharing Policy can be found at: <http://consumerinfo.alliant.edu>

Campus Fire Safety and Right to Know Disclosures

The Campus Fire Safety Right-to Know Act requires colleges and universities to disclose certain fire safety information. The following specific information is required for the most recent calendar year for each on-campus student housing facility. (The San Diego Campus of Alliant International University is the only Alliant campus that has student residential housing and these disclosures pertain to that housing):

There are smoke alarms installed in each of the student residential housing suites. There are no sprinklers in the student housing. There are fire alarms located on two of the residential buildings. Smoke and fire alarms are tested on a routine basis by the University facilities department and by the local fire marshal.

Mandatory supervised fire drills and evacuations are conducted once a year.

Candles and all open flames are prohibited. Smoking in the student housing suites, balconies and staircases is prohibited. No cooking or use of hot pots, ovens, or immersion heaters is allowed. Coffee pots with self contained heating units, coffee makers, popcorn poppers, small microwaves and small refrigerators (under 4.0 cubic feet) are permitted.

Brush management on the entire San Diego campus, including around the student housing facilities, is done at least twice a year or more if needed. The University reviews its fire safety measures on a regular basis and makes improvements/upgrades as needed.
